Itinerary

Day 1 - Rishikesh to Jakholi

Rishikesh to Jakholi is approximately 175 KM and a 6 hours drive. This is a pleasant journey and what makes it more special is when you know you are heading to the hills. On the way, you can stop for breakfast, and lunch at any refreshment zones. On arrival at Jakholi please check in to the hotel and rest for the remaining time in the day. Evening tea, dinner and overnight stay in Jakholi.

Day 2 - Jakholi to Triyuginarayan

In early morning, drive to Triyuginarayan. It is about 97KMs from Jakholi. This temple is famous as the site where Lord Shiva married Goddess Parvati. An eternal flame burning for the last three Yugas is in front of the temple and is said to have been a witness to this notable wedding. The temple looks a lot like the Kedarnath temple. Darshan here is considered really auspicious for couples. After Darshan at this temple get back to your hotel at Triyuginarayan or Sonaprayag for rest and a night stay.

Day 3 - Triyugunarayn - Kalimath

In the morning after the refreshing morning tea and breakfast, drive to Kalimath. It will take 1-1.30 hr to reach. Kalimath (originally known, and still sometimes referred to, as Kaviiltha) is a village which is regarded as a divine place and shakti peeth. It lies at an altitude of around 6,000 feet (1,800 m) on the river Saraswati in the Himalayas, surrounded by the peaks of Kedarnath in Rudraprayag District of Uttarakhand, India. Kalimath is situated close to Ukhimath, and Guptakashi. It is one of the "Siddha Peeths" of the region and is held in high religious esteem. There are 108 Shakti Peethas in India and this holy shrine is one of them as per Srimad Devi Bhagwat. The upper part of Goddesses Kali is worshipped in Dhari Devi (Uttarakhand) and the remaining part in Kalimath. Religious tradition is that Kalimath is where Kali killed the demon Raktavija and went under the earth. Kalimath is the only place where the goddess Kali is worshipped along with her sisters Laxmi and Saraswati. There is a temple of the goddess Kali. After darshan Check in to the hotel and overnight stay at the hotel.

Day 4 - Kalimath to Ukhimath

In the morning after breakfast Journey starts from Kalimath to Ukhimath, on arrival check in to the hotel, and after fresh up ready to visit the famous Omkareshwar temple also known as Panch Kedar temple. During winter all Pancha Kedar temple moorthies are worshipped here.

In the evening come back to the hotel and relax for the day, overnight stay at Ukhimath.

Day 5 - Ukhimath - Chopta

In the morning you can see snow-capped Himalayan ranges. After breakfast start your trek to Chopta through dense forest and meadows. Upon arrival at Chopta set out your tents for an overnight stay. In the evening explore the magnificent view of the Himalayas.

Day 6 - Chopta - Rudraprayag

Check out from Chopta and drive to Rudraprayag, on arrival check in to the hotel, and visit the confluence of River Mandakini and Alakananda, after that visit famous Laxmi Narayan temple and Koteswar temple, in evening come back to the hotel, over night stay at Rudraprayag.
